Let's Talk

Here we are thick in the middle of summer. Well, it's actually spring while I'm writing this, but we're having our never ending problem with the mails. At least our mail carriers are not on strike as are some others around the world.

Recently I've received several letters from people wondering about some of the bottles pictured here in the magazine. What the writers are concerned about is where to get some of these bottles as so many of them don't seem to be readily available. A good example is the piece on the cover of this issue. You don't just run out to Singapore to buy it. And, even if you could, you'd probably not find it.

If you come to the Los Angeles area, a great many bottles are available. However, can you walk into any liquor store to find them? Absolutely not. Only a very, very few stores will stock more than the common drinkers. You have to find the right place and that isn't easy. Anyone who has ever traveled to major cities of the world knows that only a handful of places exist which cater to our needs.

The other way to find bottles is through correspondence. Now I know that for many people the idea of even putting pen to paper is an impossibility. So for you folks, rely on luck. For the rest of you who don't mind writing to someone far away in a distant city or even country, you're going to open up an entire new area for yourself. Interested in bottles from Scotland, write a collector there. Want bottles from Asia, find a pen pal. Believe me, there are collectors waiting to hear from you. Use the classifieds. Get involved.

More next time. --DMS--

Our Cover

On the cover this time is a miniature back bar piece from Singapore. We've shown pieces similar to this one previously; however, never have we run across one this intricate. Made in Hong Kong primarily of plastic, this magnificent coach was produced for the Hennessy Company. The trim and filigree are all simulated gold which adds to the richness of the piece. All in all, a winner!

Recently several collectors have shown interest in the ceramic MBC bottles from the 1970's. It seems that a number of people are trying to finish sets and wonder just how many of the MBC bottles were issued.

Following is a list of 52 bottles, all of which were issued prior to the middle of 1975. A few others were released after this time and in a future issue, we'll compile a list of those. The Las Vegas pieces would appear to be the most sought after. Values currently run from $10-20 each.

MBC

UPDATE

by
Randy Austin

Back in the #76 issue of the MBC, Mario Kyriakidis wrote an interesting article concerning the mini liqueur spirits bottles sold only in New York. Mario mentioned several different bottles, and I would now like to add the following brands to what was previously mentioned. These are all liquors which were transformed into mini liqueurs:

Hiram Walker Ten High Bourbon
Walker's Deluxe Bourbon
Canadian Mist
Jamesons Irish
Walker's Canadian
100 Pipers Scotch
Chairman's Choice Scotch
Clan MacGregor Scotch
Haig Scotch
Lauders Scotch
MacIntosh Scotch
Park & Tilford Scotch
Scottish Majesty Scotch
Black & White Scotch
Hankey Bannister Scotch
Moquin Royal Scotch
Kentucky Gentleman Bourbon
Barton's Reserve Bourbon

As for the reasoning behind why New York State had this bizarre regulation in the first place: It seems that when the State Legislature was drawing up the Alcoholic Beverage Control law after Prohibition was repealed, they considered allowing miniatures to be made available in liquor stores, bars, and on-premise licensed restaurants. Apparently, the tavern and restaurant industry felt that if a citizen could obtain a "shot" of gin, whiskey, etc. for about 30¢, why would he go into a bar to pay a buck for the same shot? They flet it was unfair competition. However, there was a push for minis right after Prohibition because the competition for the newly legalized customers of liquor was very keen and "sample nips" allowed a Depression-poor country to taste the product without going broke. A compromise had to be reached to appease all concerned.

This is what the N.Y. State Legislature came up with in their Solomonic wisdom:

	liquor store	bar
Liquors & Cocktails:
min.	8 oz	25 oz.
max.	1/2 gal	1/2 gal
Brandy:
min.	no size restrict.	25 oz.
max.	1/2 gal	1/2 gal
Wine:
min.	6 oz.	6 oz.
max.	15 gals.	15 gals.
CORDIALS:
min.	no size restrict.	n.s.r.
max	1/2 gal	1/2 gal

Hard cider and bitters had no size restrictions; in addition any transportation operator could get any type of mini for trains or planes operated out of N.Y. State. The liquor industry (at least some companies) beat the restriction by putting a small amount of sugar in their hard liquor brands so that a customer in N.Y. would have a full range of container sizes from which to choose. --R.A.--

A Visit To Boozeville

by Lloyd McLeod

Show me a town that doesn't get excited about summer time and baseball. Well, of course, Boozeville is no exception.

Shown here are two bottles that are types of the "bulge top" bottles. There are at least eight kinds of these bottles. Some of them are very rare as in the case of the baseball player. This bottle is 7 inches tall, showing a multicolored baseball player with bat against a black bottle with a silver top. It is numbered 5932.

The other piece is slightly more common but still hard to find. It features a girl lion tamer. She has an orange blouse and is also 7 inches tall with number 6207 (or 2). It has the crown mark.

These both belong to Jack and Dorice Hallenbeck of Tecumseh, Michigan. Thanks to Jack and Dorice for sending in these two beauties.

melo's minis

by Mike Olson

In this article I would like to feature three terrific flats from the 1930's along with some interesting glass variations plus an update on Penn-Maryland. The first three bottles are extremely colorful and it is unfortunate that they can not be shown in color. The next group are good examples of something which has always intrigued me. Namely this is that some distillers have used the same label on both amber and clear glass bottles. I am not really sure why this was done, maybe in years past the companies actually cared about the customer. Whatever the reasons, this has made more bottles available for collectors. I like variations and particularly bottles which are produced in "sets". Also, I get a thrill out of finding a variation which I did not know existed. Sometimes this happens as a result of buying or trading for brand names which I already have with the hope of getting a pleasant surprise.

Anyway, it's no surprise that the first bottle pictured is one of my personal favorites. It is GREEN OAKS Whiskey bottled for the Sentinel Liquor Store Inc. Chicago, IL. It is 90 proof, has a multi-colored label which features a full colored oak tree and has a 1937 Illinois tax stamp. Bottle number two is COTTON CLUB Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whiskey distilled and bottled by E. O. Jackson Distilling Co. Chicago, IL. It is 90 proof, one year old, distilled in Kentucky, has a green label trimmed in yellow and a 1936 Illinois tax stamp. The last of these is CHERRY GROVE Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whiskey bottled for Acorn Liquor Company, Cleveland, Ohio. It is also 90 proof, two years old, distilled by Cummins Distilleries Corp., Athertonville, KY, has a red and black label and was made about 1936.

Next we have a pair of FAMILY CLUB Blended Whiskey blended and bottled by Dundalk Liquor Co. Inc. Baltimore, MD The amber glass is 85 proof, four or more years old and was made in 1941. The clear glass is 86.8 proof, eight years old and was made in 1947. In this case Dundalk changed bottles following World War II, but used the same front label. The following pairs are all exactly the same except for the glass and were made during the same time period.

The THREE FEATHERS Blended Whiskey were blended and bottled by Oldtyme Distillers Inc. Cedarhurst, MD. Jersey City, NJ. They are 86.8 proof (also made at 90 proof), four or more years old and were made in 1941.

The next three pairs are GIBSON'S Blended Whiskey bottled by the Gibson Dist. Co. Aladdin PA. The XXXX are 86.8 proof, five or more years old and were made in 1947. The Selected Eight are 90 proof, five or more years old and were made in 1948. The Vat 100 are 100 proof, five or more years old and were also made in 1948.

The last of the pairs is SIR JOHN SCHENLEY blended and bottled by the Schenley Distilleries Inc. Lawrenceburg, Ind. They are 86 proof, five or more years old and were made about 1948. Sir John Schenley was made in many other variations and are the most common of these bottles.

Finally, I would like to close with three Penn-Maryland variations which I have acquired since my article in the M B C no. 78. The first of these is PENN MARYLAND DELUXE Blended Rye Whiskey. It is 90 proof, six years old and was made about 1935. Next is BRIGADIER Blended Whiskey. It is 90 proof, one year old and was made about 1935. The last of these is WINDSOR Straight Bourbon Whiskey. It is 93 proof, 18 months old and was made about 1936.

As always, if anyone would like any further information on any bottle pictured, please feel free to contact me at (507) 454-1499.

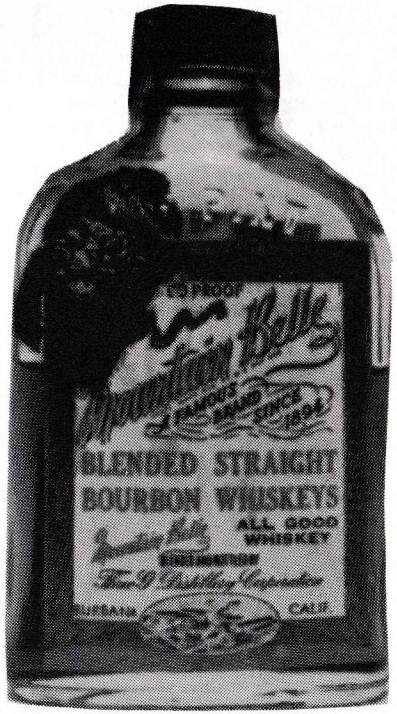

Until next time.....MELO

Whiskey Heritage

by

GEORGE JINKENS

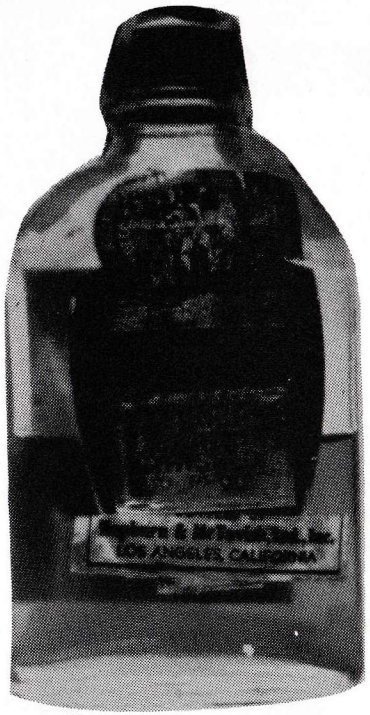

This time I will show you three California whiskeys that are in my collection. First we have MOUNTAIN BELLE, blended and bottled by the Three G Distilling Co. of Burbank, CA. The whiskey is 90 proof and the label states that it was "A Famous Brand Since 1894".

Next there is MONTECITO. This is a straight bourbon whiskey. The picture of this bottle didn't come out too well (foil labels are terrible to photo). The Montecito was bottled by Hepburn & McTavish, Ltd., Inc., Los Angeles, CA. It's not known if this was made for the city of Montecito outside of Santa Barbara.

Last we have my favorite. This is one of fifteen California whiskeys I got out of the Chic Vinu collection I bought. LUCKY STRIKE was bottled for C.C.T. Co., Los Angeles, CA. The picture on the label shows a gold miner striking it rich. Actually I struck it rich when I got this bottle!

Rare Character

MINIATURE BEERS

by Bob Kay

RECOLLECTIONS OF THE HUNT

Once while in New Orleans on vacation, I found myself, with a free afternoon and decided to go looking for minis. The time frame was the mid-1970's. I asked around for antique shops and soon was advised to go down Magazine Street as long as the shops lasted. It seems now as I think back on it that the shops ran for about two to three miles. I was really hungry for a new mini beer find, so I set out on the hunt.

After about two and a half miles, several blisters and a horrible hot dog to keep me going, I was beginning to lose the faith. I had so far found only one shop that had any mini beers at all...five common Falstaff's with badly torn labels. Most shopkeepers didn't know what a mini beer was. Can you imagine?

After several hours of this I was about ready to give up when I came upon a junk shop. The door was open so I wandered in. It was mostly second-hand furniture with a quarter inch of dust on it. No one was there and I had that uneasy feeling that I wasn't supposed to be there. As I walked out, a large older man in bib coveralls came from the house next door and asked, "Anything I kin hep ya-all with?"

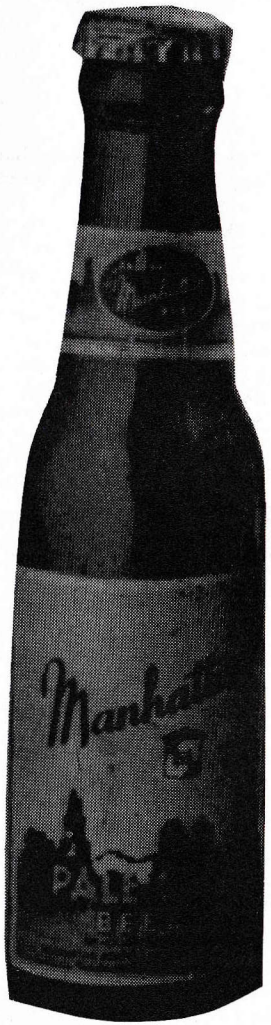

My first impulse was to say no, as it seemed hopeless. However, instead I asked in return, "Do you have any miniature beer bottles?"

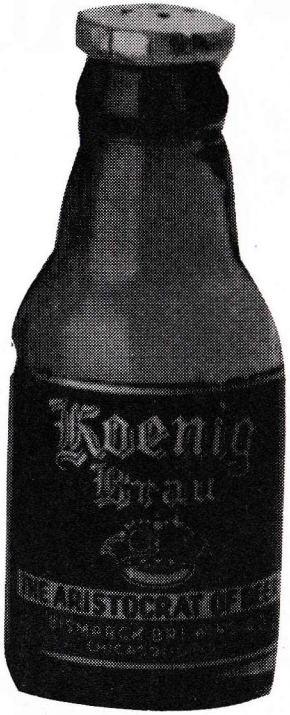

He paused and then slowly answered, "Maybe. Let's take a look."

He then directed me to a corner of the shop and next to a quart Bell jar, he picked up a single, lonesome bottle, blew dust off it and said, "Ya-all mean one of these here little things?"

He had just handed me the Topper bottle (IL-11) pictured here (along with two other favorites). At that time I had never seen a Topper before. I tried to ask the price casually, but he could tell I was trembling. He put it to me for the max...three bucks. All the way back I kept pinching myself to see if this was a dream or not.

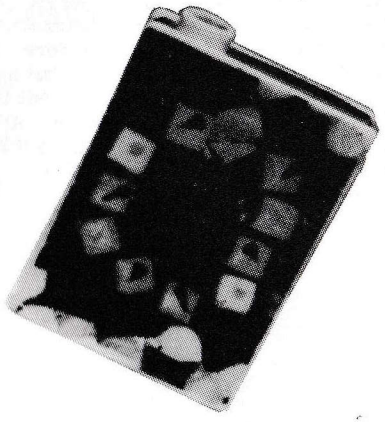

Till next time..... Bob Kay

SMALL TALK

Every once in a while you come across something which you think is so different that you want to share it with everyone. Well, while attempting to clean out my desk (a monumental and herculean task if ever there was one!), I came across a great deal of correspondence with Mr. Victor Nelson who owned E. Delatour et Cie. on St. Croix in the Virgin Islands. For those of you who have been to the Caribbean over the years, the Delatour bottles were always something special.

In any case, following are the miniature bottles offered by Delatour and their retail prices as of June 1, 1978. For those of you who collect in sets, this is the basic Delatour collection. Naturally the prices are those paid in St. Croix.

1.	Chococo	.65
2.	Platananas	.50
3.	Caribbean Palms	.35
4.	Coconut	.35
5.	Bananas of St. Croix	.35
6.	Creme de Noyaux	.35
7.	Almond	.35
8.	Plus Cafe (w/cognac)	.35
9.	Curacao	.35
10.	Triple Set	.35
11.	Flamboyan Yellow	.50
12.	Flamboyan Red	.50
13.	Bon Bon Royal	.35
14.	Calaloo	.30
15.	Tangerika	.30
16.	Yaya's	.30
17.	Quon Keem Cham	.35

Zuiss Creams Series with a chocolate base which is distilled five times.

18.	Mint Bon Bons	.50
19.	Mint Chocolat	.50
20.	Tangerine	.50
21.	Oranges	.50
22.	Orange Chocolat	.50
23.	Jamaica Rum	.50
24.	Strawberry	.50
25.	Plain White Cocoa	.50
26.	Bon Bon Royal in Candy-like Porcelain Box	1.00

Now, if some of those names intrigued you, here are some definitions. Flamboyan is ready mixed pina colada; Tangerika is sweet tangerine brandy; Calaloo, an island aphrodisiac liqueur; Yaya's, pears in chocolate; and, Quon Keem Cham, tea with Brandy.

At various times, many other items were issued in either glass or 30ml ceramic containers. These included: Creme de Roses, Lord Chesterfield Gin, Creme de Carnations, Creme de Violets, Tamarind, Pinarika, Peralinda, and Yankeeland which was a mixture of maple syrup, walnuts and honey with alcohol. Mmmmmmm.

Quite an impressive list, wouldn't you say! --DMS--

A Story Behind Every Label

by Joe Levesque

When it comes to elegant "floating palaces" of the 1930's, nothing can beat the NORMANDIE. It was the most prestigious ship on the Atlantic run from its maiden voyage to New York in 1935 till the fall of France in 1940. To many, it was the greatest ship ever built anywhere.

Every one of the 400 First Class cabins were decorated differently and each had a bath supplied with fresh water upon demand. The dining room was breathtaking. A descending staircase provided an opportunity for a ritual entrance by the ladies, accompanied by their gentlemen in white tie - a must for Atlantic crossings. The NORMANDIE had the first theater equipped for talking pictures ever installed on a passenger liner.

When the Nazis invaded France in 1940, the NORMANDIE was ordered to stay put in New York. But when the United States entered the war two years later, she was requisitioned by the U.S. Navy for conversion to a troop transport and renamed the USS Lafayette. In 1942, in the process of reconversion, sparks from a welder set off a leaping chain of fire that had the entire ship ablaze in minutes. The fireboats poured so much water into her she keeled and literally sank on her side at the pier.

One year later, she was righted by a salvage company and turned over to the Navy who dragged her to the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Three years later, she was hauled to Port Newark and sold for scrap - her humiliation ended.

In 1935, HARDY COGNAC produced this NORMANDIE label in honor of this luxurious ship. It is doubtful this miniature was ever sold on the ship... at least there are no indications on the bottle... but it was a nice gesture on Hardy's part. And, it tells us that the bottles is at least 52 years old!

Ski Country

Back again. You're looking at the newest issue in the Ski Country line. This is the Mountain Cats and the bottle should be available about the time you receive this issue, if not before. The Cats will be in rather short supply though, only 600 pieces of the 750 ml will be produced and 720 pieces of the 50 ml mini.

The Safari Lions that we showed you previously has done quite well and is now seldom seen outside collectors' shelves. The Olla Dancer that we've also mentioned earlier is still due to be issued in October. This one I'd definitely suggest you order from a dealer in advance. These bottles are the favorites of many and disappear even faster than some of the magnificent bird decanters.

Finally, we hope that you like the checklist. It's now up to date (we do hope), so if you find any errors, let us know and we'll put them right!

MINI WORLD

You know it's hard to believe. We know it's hard to believe. Everyone except the liquor companies finds it hard to believe... but here they are, more SCHNAPPS bottles. Yes, fellow collectors, you too can savor the delights of some of the most gaggingly clever alcoholic concoctions to come down that well-known pike.

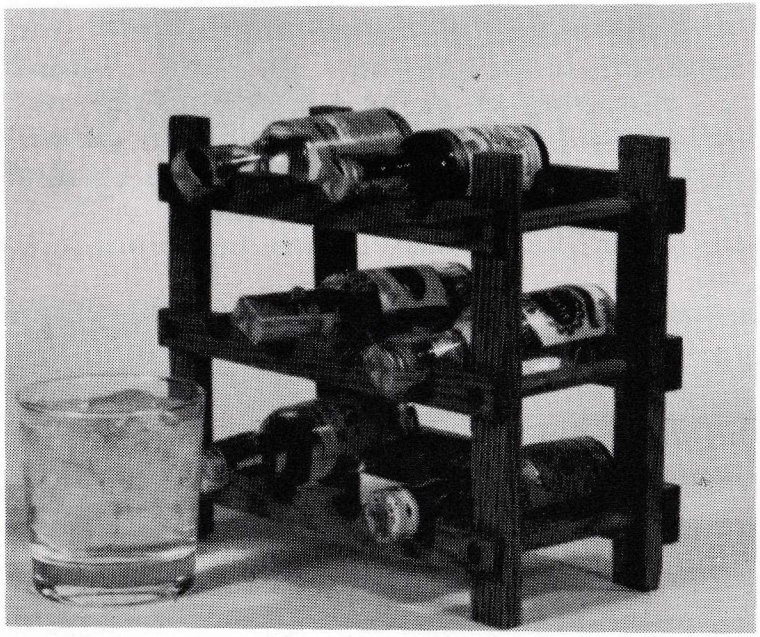

Leroux first accosts us with its Cranberry Apple and then looks for a KO with Banana Strawberry. DeKuyper shoots for a winner with its Harvest Pear thus prompting the question of how a Harvest Pear differs from any other Pear. OK, DeKuyper, we realize the depths of our naivete, but clue us in. Finally, Mr. Boston (he's no longer "Old" and hasn't been for some time now) hits us with a double whammy of Heads Up Root Beer and Boss-Berry Black Raspberry. Boss-Berry?

Sorry for the editorial comments... but not really. Is there no end to it? Who drinks these things? Maybe there are millions of collectors and no one drinks them. Nice thought, eh?
